Dublin Institute Fire Damaged. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

DUBLIN, VA., May 2.—Dublin Institute suffered a fire and water loss of probably $160 yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, in one of the dormitories, one of the rooms of which on the ground floor was occupied as a classroom. Mrs. J. W. Walker and pupils were absent at the time, in the main building auditorium, and the fire started at or near a hole in the plastering of the outside wall of this room, which was a convenient receptacle on the part of careless pupils for bits of waste paper. It had climbed the wall three stories before an alarm brought the hose company, which made short work of the fire.

SHIELDS IS GIVEN FINE AND SIX MONTHS' TERM

First Advance Is Made in Six-Mile Bridge Clean-

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LYNCHBURG, VA., May 9 .- Furthr advances were made in the disposition of the Six-Mile Bridge "cess pool" cases, growing out of the murder of William L. Johnson, in November 1920, when R. T. Shields, pleaded guilty to the charge of moonshining and was sentenced to pay $200 fine and serve six months in jail, the sentence being suspended until September, when Shields is to begin the jail sentence. It was brought out in the hearing that Shields had been convicted in Amherst County some years ago un-der the State prohibition law; hence this was the second charge against Raffelman was charged with violating the Mapp act, and Judge W.

H. Sargeant was questioning the juriors as to their fitness for serving, One of the most prominent business men in the city was the first to declare he could not serve in fairness to himself and the Commonwealth.

"I do not feel that I can send a man to jail for violating the Mapp act," he said.

When asked E. after hearing all the cyndence in the case, he could not give a fair verdict, He again replied to the Holy Trinity, Rittenhouse to the Commonwealth in the lair to the Commonwealth in the matter. Three others followed, all prominent in business circles, and then the fifth said his sympathies would be with the accused.

Efforts of Nathaniel T. Green, counsel for Raffelman, to have these jurors change their minds and serve were unavalling, and they were exclused by the Judge from further duty.
